PRESIDENT WILSON SAILS FOR FRANCE THIS MORNING ONLY SMALL CROWD PRESENT

(By Associated Press)
New York, March 5.—President Wilson sailed today on his second voyage to France determined as he said in his speech here last night, not to come back till it's over, over there. The transport George Washington, bearing the Presidential party left Hoboken at 8.15 a. m. The departure was marked by simplicity which contrasted with the noisy demonstration when the George Washington carried the President from American waters on his first journey to Paris last December. Today there was only a small crowd assembled at the army transport pier. To these the President, hat in hand, waved farewell greetings as the

STRIKERS WOULD RECALL ALDERMAN FOR UNFAIRNESS

(By Associated Press)
Lawrence, March 5.—Attorney Thomas G. Connolly, counsel for the committee in charge of the textile strike here, announced today that a petition for the recall of Alderman Peter Carr had been prepared and would be filed as soon as the necessary number of signatures had been secured. The recall movement has been started, according to Connolly, because of the alleged unfair activity on the part of the police department, of which Alderman Carr is the head. The signatures of about 2800 qualified voters are necessary to secure a recall election.

STORMY MEETING OF BOARD OF HEALTH ENDS IN ELECTION OF W. H. JUNKINS

There was a stormy meeting of the Board of Health this forenoon, at which the Board were to act upon the suggestions of the Council, that the Health Officer elected last week should also be elected bacteriologist, so that his salary would be sufficient for a trained man. Walter H. Junkins, the Health Officer, was elected by the Board as bacteriologist, but not until after Dr. Dixon, a member of the Board, had objected, but Dr. J. H. Neal and Clarence Pearson, the two other members, voted for Junkins. Mr. Junkins, who has taken four years at Dartmouth and two years special at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, as a sanitary engineer, has had two years' experience in health work.

The matter of electing a public health nurse, with the understanding that she should act as a school nurse, was laid over for a week, after the offer of the Portsmouth Chapter of the Red Cross, offering to appropriate $200 of the salary. If Mrs. Murphy, the Red Cross nurse, was elected, had been received. It is understood that there are one or two candidates locally, but none who have had any training whatever as a school nurse, which is a very distinctive training.

MURDERED PRISONER IN MAINE JAIL

(By Associated Press)
Alfred, Me., March 5.—Robert L. Mapes, of Saco, awaiting trial on the charge of murderous assault upon police officers, was killed in his cell at the county jail here today. According to Lester H. Garvin, the jailer, Mapes was hit over the head with a flat iron by Carl V. Goodwin, of Lebanon, a cell mate. Mapes was arrested late in January after he had barricaded himself in his father's home at Saco and held the police at bay for 24 hours. Goodwin, who is 19 years old, was held for the grand jury last week on charges of shooting two officers and burning five sets of buildings along the Maine and New Hampshire border.

ASST. ATTORNEY GENERAL TODD HAS RESIGNED

SEVERAL KILLED IN BERLIN RIOT

(By Associated Press)
Berlin, Tuesday, March 4.—Government troops at police headquarters fired on rioters today. Several casualties are reported. The troops had been called to disperse crowds which were gathered with increased numbers around the headquarters. Reports that a Spartacan marine division had seized police headquarters proved to be incorrect. Advances from Bremen state that prisoners there have been released by insurgents, the electric and gas works are in the hands of insurgents. An attempt to call a general strike in Dresden failed.

JOBS FEW ALL THROUGH MAINE TOURIST SAYS

Saco, March 5.—"There isn't a loose job in Maine from Kittery Point to Quoddyhead," said Frank Clark to Juller William Welch of Saco Monday morning. "I know because I have been looking for work for the last two months and I have traveled all over Maine, even though I have had to use slide door Pullmans. No; I'm not a hobo. I'm a paper hanger and if I do say it I'm a good one. There's no work in my home state, Massachusetts, and I struck off into Maine, going to the end of the line. I've been in every city of any size and have offered to work at anything from wood chipping to laborer's work in the mills. Job? There ain't no such animal, at least in those sections of the Maine woods that I have been in."

Sentence was suspended on Clark when he was arraigned before Judge C. Wallace Harmon and he started out to look for work, making a careful canvass of the two cities.

REV. H. H. HALL SIGNS UP FOR COOK'S POSITION

Portland, March 5.—Rev. Henry H. Hall, the former pastor of the Baptist church at Wells Depot, was in Portland Monday and went to the office of United States Shipping Commissioner O'Brien, where he signed for a position as cook on some vessel bound on a long voyage. Mr. Hall was on his way to Harrington and stopped over in Portland. According to friends, the former Wells Depot man is not looking any too well and he believes that a trip overseas will do him good in the line of building up his health. He was in pretty bad condition when he left Saco after being acquitted of the charge of having caused the death of his wife at Wells Depot.

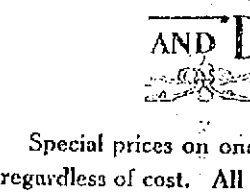

Wonder when work on the new school house starts.

NO PROSPERITY DURING THIS UNREST

Washington, March 4.—Massachusetts men took a leading part in today's session of the conference of governors and mayors at the White House, Governor Calvin Coolidge asserting that the sooner industry asserts its independence the sooner the country will start on a normal basis for prosperity. Roger W. Babson, detailing the desires of the Federal Government to shorten the period of adjustment, and Mayor Andrew J. Peters, advocating an early stabilization of conditions. Other governors and mayors who participated in the discussions told of limited unemployment in their respective States and cities and a few declared that undercurrents of Bolshevism are noticeable.

Governor Coolidge as chairman of the session was accorded hearty applause when he said that the question before the delegation was what to do to start business generally and on a peace basis and that the first thing to do was to make peace with the nations with whom we have been at war. Approval was expressed when he said the law of supply and demand should replace price fixing, adding that if this were applied to wheat the prices of food products would go down. He said that commerce and industry were to conduct itself rather than be conducted by the Government. It is time for it to begin such operation. "It must be under government control or under its own control," he said. "It cannot have two masters. The sooner it asserts its independence the sooner we shall start again on a normal basis for prosperity."

Asks About Federal Plans
In opening the session, Governor Coolidge was interrupted by Lieutenant Governor Oglesby of Illinois, who after explaining that he had been summoned home unexpectedly, asked that a resolution be adopted calling on the Administration to inform the delegates what plan or plans it has to relieve unemployment and to restore normal conditions. Governor Edge of New Jersey suggested that the conference proceed to hear what the delegates have to say before acting on the resolution. This was done after Governor Coolidge had explained that the Government plans would be detailed to the conference before it adjourned.

LAST SESSION FULL OF COMEDY

Washington, March 4.—The 65th Congress wound up with a clouded pun. As he banged the gavel to mark the close of the Senate, Vice President Marshall announced the adjournment "sine die" instead of the customary "Sine die."

Afterwards asked if he meant by this, "Without God's Mercy," he decided to interpret his announcement. At 11:53, the noise in the Senate chamber, was such as to make the hearing of the roll call impossible. "Can the Senate keep quiet for seven minutes?" asked the Vice President. In the House, two minutes before adjournment, Green of Massachusetts asked permission to absent himself for the rest of the session in order to attend to important business. No objection being heard the desired permission was granted, but the House died before he could get out of the chamber.

While Senator France of Maryland was slaughtering time at the top of his voice and charging up and down the floor in the wee small hours of the morning, a well known, elderly Republican Senator, with years of experience in the Senate, who hoped to get through a few local bills, was interested in, got up and walked out of the chamber. A Southern Democratic Senator, who sat near the aisle, heard the retiring Republican solemnly muttering to himself: "I wish that damned long-legged, loose-tongued, bone-headed wind jammer was in—"

Jerry C. Smith, chief clerk of the House, raised his voice in a mournful tone today immediately following the adjournment. His attempt was altogether impromptu. He sang so slowly that the Marine Band leader, Capt. Santelmann, gave up the attempt to help out.

The time resembled that of "O, Happy Day," but the words went something like this: "O, God, nobody knows how dry I am." Members took up the refrain with a thundering chorus. They repeated the effort with all the volume of their lungs, when a shrill voice yelled from the gallery: "It's your own fault. It's your own fault." The "hymn" stopped.

Senator Martin of Virginia, retiring leader of the Senate, in a solemn mood Tuesday morning, when he realized that the General Deficiency bill was dead, and Senator Sherman was wound up and going for an indefinite period, he went into the President's room and asked if he should continue to state that there would be no extension.

As he was on the way back another leading Democratic Senator accosted Mr. Martin and asked: "What encouragement?"

"He would not call an extra session if hell froze over. His mind is made up. I shall tell the Republicans so."

BRITISH DEVICES THWART SUBS
London, March 4.—One of the most successful devices invented by British naval experts in the war time was now known as a "blister" and served to protect ships against torpedoes. It is an outer shell casing fitted to the sides of ships. All of the tactical details of construction have been revealed, but naval experts assert that ships equipped with blisters run no greater risk from underwater attacks than from surface fighting attacks. In the war the Germans torpedoes several blister ships, but in every case it is asserted, the vessels were able to reach port and be repaired.

Mr. B. H. T. D'Eyncourt, director of naval construction, invented the blister, which was first attached to four old cruisers. Patently the navy will not for a test for two years, then, in June, 1917, the cruiser Grafton while steaming at ten knots was struck amidships by a torpedo fired from a German submarine only thirty yards distant. The blister, which stuck out from the cruiser's side about fifteen feet, exploded the torpedo, and the Grafton steamed back to port with only a slight list.

A self-propelling projectile charged with 500 pounds of T. N. T. was perfected by the naval experts only a short time before the armistice was signed. It is believed to have strengthened materially the power and effectiveness of the British fleet. The projectile can be discharged without concussion from small boats or a light platform, exploding on the contact or when fitted with a special device below the water, thus serving the purpose of a depth charge.

An apparatus for throwing a flame for a distance of 240 feet, as water is thrown from a hose, was rigged on one of the vessels that took part in the raid on Zeebrugge. But before it could be used a shell from the enemy batteries put it out of action.

Another invention is a gun to the signals from submerged submarines. It sends a star shell 300 feet into the air. Several kinds of smoke screens were invented, most of them for the purpose of baffling U-boats. A powerful flare equal to a million candlepower was another achievement of the naval inventors which was used with great effect against enemy submarines waiting on the surface at night to attack merchant ships. These flares, suddenly ignited, turned night into day, and in the Straits of Dover alone seventeen U-boats were caught by their aid and sunk.

The work of developing these inventions was carried on by the Royal Naval Experimental Station near London. Its staff comprised of 25 officers and 1,000 men, all experts either in research or constructional work, most of them being chemists or engineers.

Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little Freezone on an aching corn, instantly it will stop hurting, then you lift it right out. Yes, magic! No humbug! A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard corn, callus, or corn between the toes, and the calluses, without need of surgery or arithmology.

Freezone is the sensational discovery of a Cincinnati genius. It is wonderful.

DOVER

Dover, March 4.—Superior court opened at the court house in this city Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Judge Thomas J. Murphy of Berlin presiding. Two criminal cases were first taken up. Henry Tewksbury of Portsmouth was arraigned on an indictment charging him with passing a worthless check for $120 upon Raymond Fox of Stratford on Dec. 15, 1918. The respondent pleaded not guilty. Being without counsel the court assigned Col. Walter W. Scott to defend him.

The second criminal case was that of Charles Weatherhead, who had previously pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging him with having committed the crime of bigamy was brought into court and retried. The court sentenced him to serve a term of not less than one year and one day and not more than two years in the state prison at Concord.

The civil case of Mary Spence, administratrix of the estate of Charles Spence vs. the Salmon Falls Manufacturing company was then taken up. John W. Mitchell of the firm of Fugate and Mitchell and George T. Hughes appeared for the plaintiff and John A. J. Lucier of the firm of Doyle and Lucier of Nashua, appeared for the defendant. This action is brought by the plaintiff to receive damages in the sum of $10,000 under the employer's liability act for injuries which resulted in the death of Charles Spence on June 26, 1917.

Harold M. Shaw with a large crew of workmen began to tear down the old United States hotel on Third street Tuesday morning. This property was recently purchased by Mr. Shaw and his son-in-law, Harry P. Addison of Manchester. It is generally understood that a theatre is to be erected upon the site of this hotel which has long been a landmark in Dover.

The first mail since 1914 received in this city from Syria was received Monday by local Syrians. Alexander Oush of 57 Third street, was among those receiving mail. A letter from his sister-in-law, who lives in Zahle, in the Mt. Lebanon district, between Beirut and Damascus, brought the tidings that his brother, father and mother were dead. Conditions in that section during the war were described as terrible. The Turks taking measures to deliberately exterminate the people, killed by starvation. Mr. Oush's brother lived in this country for many years and served several years in the United States navy. A few years ago he returned to the land of his birth.

SLOGANS FOR INCOME TAX DRIVE HAVE PEP

Washington, March 4.—Slogans coined by the Internal Revenue Bureau to stimulate early and full payment of income taxes reflect the changed conditions in which the tax payer finds himself now that victory has been won and hostilities have ceased. The powers of authority have been defeated but the monetary cost of the success will be to be met, largely by the taxes to be paid this year.

"Army of Occupation" sounds good but it needs your support," says one of the slogans. Then it asks, "Have you paid your income tax?"

Another classes an income tax receipt with a gold service stripe.

Those who celebrated victory most loudly are reminded that "tooling a horn on armistice day did not end your part in winning a peace with victory. Paying your income tax makes more real noise than tooling a horn."

Persons who may be inclined to grumble at the increased rate of taxation are given food for thought in the following:

"If you think your income tax is a hardship, picture what you would have been up against had William Hohenzollern won the collectorship job."

Other slogans include: "You stand up for the National Anthem. Now stand up and pay your income tax."

"There were no delinquents at Chateau Thierry. Are you delaying the payment of your income tax?"

"Don't try to fool your conscience by cheating the returning soldiers and forgetting to pay your income tax. An income tax evader hasn't much on any of the other pro-Germans."

"If you didn't serve over there you can serve over here by paying your income tax."

"When the boys come home they will ask what you have done. Show them your income tax receipt."

"When you pay your income tax you get a receipt from Uncle Sam. What would have William Hohenzollern have handed you?"

"Uncle Sam still has a big job ahead of him. Help him by paying your income tax now."

Mothers! An Appeal For Your Children

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the physic that mother insisted on—castor oil, salts or cathartics. How you hated them. How you fought them. How you dreaded their after-effects. That was all wrong, but then nobody knew better.

With our children it's different. The day of harsh physics is over. We don't force the bowels now; we coax them. We have no dreaded after-effects. And the dose is a candy tablet.

Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't know what they do.

The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender bowels are harmed by them. The modern way is to give a gentle laxative more frequently. To keep the bowels always active.

The best method is Cascarets.

Cascarets are candy tablets. Children love their pleasant taste. They cost only 10 cents a box, with full directions for children's dosage at all ages. Babies too!

Give Cascarets, then don't worry—they never disappoint.

SENATE KILLS THE SUNDAY BILL

Would Allow Base Ball on Sunday Afternoons--Final Vote 12 to 9. Bridge
Bill in the House

The Senate on Tuesday killed the Sunday bill so called which would allow Sunday base ball and other sports where no admission was charged. The bill passed the House by a three to one vote, and was up in the Senate on Tuesday.

The Senate soon after they took up the bill went into a committee of the whole and began at once the consideration of the bill and there were a large number of people heard. About twelve minutes from all parts of the state appeared in opposition to the bill and about as many laymen including Benjamin Couch of the House, appeared in favor of the bill. It was very apparent that the sides all went ed the bill, but the country sections were as usual opposed to anything of a progressive nature. The bill was finally defeated by a vote of 12 to 9.

The Rockingham County Delegation at a meeting on Tuesday refused to increase the pay of the County Commissioners, the Clerk of Court or the Register of Probate.

The Portsmouth Bridge bill was brought up in the house being reported by the Committee on Public Improvements and it passed its third reading.

The elder bill or the amendment to the Lewis bill which was a special order for Tuesday will come up today and it is anticipated that it will be killed in the senate.

PRESIDENT'S LAST SPEECH BEFORE SAILING

(By Associated Press)

New York, March 4.—On the eve of his return to the Peace Conference President Wilson delivered an address at the Metropolitan Opera House here this evening urging the establishment of a league of nations. Former President Taft also outlined his reasons for believing that the League should be formed. Governor Smith of New York introduced the two speakers and the Opera house was devoid of decorations other than the grouping of the allied flags over the stage.

President Wilson arrived at the Opera house at 8:25 accompanied by Mrs. Wilson. The President was escorted to a coat room where he met Mr. Taft and Mrs. Wilson was escorted to a box in the first balcony.

The President and Mr. Taft walked upon the stage arm in arm and they were received with a great outburst of cheering and applause.

Enrico Caruso sang the "Star Spangled Banner" the great crowd standing and they remained standing until the President had taken his seat.

Gov. Smith introduced former President Taft and President Wilson smiled when Mr. Taft referred to the League resolution in the senate. Mr. Taft said "If the President insists and I hope he will that the league of nations be incorporated in the Peace Treaty, then the responsibility for the postponement of peace will be rest with those who refuse to approve it in the senate." Mr. Taft then outlined his reasons for believing that the League was necessary for the future peace of the world and he expressed an opinion that the work of the conference would be useless if some means were not provided for enforcing the peace terms, and preserving peace in after years. He thought it was the duty for the United States to become a part of the league of nations.

President Wilson was cheered for three minutes when he arose to speak and the band played "Over There." The President said that he accepted the invitation of the state just played and said "I will not come back until it is all over over there."

The President declared that he had received assurances from every part of the country that the people of the country wanted the league of nations.

He said "I am more happy because it is not a party issue. He said that an effective working agreement for a league of nations was wanted abroad and it would be the height of inconsistency for the United States to refuse to support it.

He said that if there was a friendly right on the part of nations to call attention of any nations which was doing something that might endanger the peace of other nations it would have its effect. Germany he said would never have gone to war if it had permitted a weeks discussion of its plan to punish Serbia.

The Americans went over seas not merely to defeat Germany, but to show that the United States would go anywhere where the rights of mankind were being violated. The President said that opposition in the Senate to the league was based on "careful selfishness." "I have heard of no constructive suggestions, I have heard only the suggestion," would it not be dangerous for us? If the United States does not enter the league he said that it would be the most contemptible thing the nation had ever done.

MAY TURN R. R. BACK TO PRIVATE OWNERS

(By Associated Press)

Washington, March 4.—Adjournment of Congress without action on the $750,000,000 for the railroads has left the Railroad Administration without funds to carry on the great many improvements and with $350,000,000 debts. It is possible that it may mean the return of the railroads to private owners, as the Administration is unable to carry on the improvements and upkeep of the roads. There is however a possibility that the War Finance Board may loan the money to the railroads, providing the railroads as private corporations are unable to raise it from private sources.

BERLIN TIED UP BY GENERAL CAR STRIKE

There was a great confusion when the people came from the theatres and other places as there was no warning of the strike made in the afternoon papers, and great many had to walk miles to their homes as all traffic was stopped.

SUFFRAGISTS TREATED ROUGH IN NEW YORK

Thirty suffragists were charged by fifty police officers and they were dispersed with little ceremony or trouble.

goes and hair stops
coming out.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Dressing" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will spend a few cents for a bottle of Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

Save your hair! Keep it looking charming and beautiful. You will say this was the best money you ever spent.

PRESIDENT VISITS HIS NEW GRANDSON

(By Associated Press)

Philadelphia, March 4.—President Wilson stopped over here this afternoon to see his daughter Mrs. Frances Wilson and his new grandson at the Jefferson Hospital.

Secretary Tamm accompanied the President and the President's daughter, Mrs. Wilson, and their son, a five-month-old baby, were in a room at the Jefferson Hospital. The President was to see the child and his wife and daughter-in-law.

PRETTY TOUGH WHEN LIQUOR IN SAFE IS STOLEN

Philadelphia, March 4.—Constable "Shane Day" South, arrests bound in Philadelphia the wanted man, a constable named Day, a constable named Day, a constable named Day, while attempting to stock up a little oasis of their own, a group of Philadelphia men came to grief in Georgia. One of the party said he was surprised to find that the state authorities searched the baggage on the train and confiscated whatever liquor they found. Travelers on a steamer bound for Florida also found, when the vessel made a brief stop at Savannah, that the same process was applied, officers boarding the boat and confiscating any intoxicating liquor found in the passengers' possession.

It is related here that recently a steel safe about to be shipped to Florida was filled with bottles of liquor. When it reached its destination it was found that the safe had been opened en route and its contents taken. One citizen, disgusted because packages he had sent south in various disguises had been confiscated, wrote home, "Buy three bottles of the worst you can find and dose it with ketchup. Then let them steal it!"

Without determining the validity of the confiscatory legislation, the Chester county jurist ruled that liquor was an inherently evil such as burglar's tools, counterfeit money or gambling apparatus, and awarded the plaintiff eight dollars for the liquor that had been seized and turned over to the Coatesville Hospital.

A. E. F. TO HAVE TASTE OF LIFE ON THE FARM

New York, March 4.—A $60,000 farm exhibit is being shipped this week to France by the War Work Council of the Young Men's Christian Association to be used for the instruction of thousands of soldiers in the American Expeditionary Force, who want to return to the farms when their regiments are demobilized. The exhibit was assembled by the United States Department of Agriculture at the request of the War Department.

It includes samples of soil from every county of the United States, dairy animals, egg testers, cereal and corn samples, insecticides and fungicides, an other material sufficient to fill five cars.

On its arrival in France, the exhibit will be divided into four parts, loaded on trucks and moved from camp to camp for demonstration.

The government will pay the salaries of its experts and the Y. M. C. A. will pay their expenses. It is expected that the military authorities will assign several hundred instructors from the army to use this exhibit in agricultural education. It is announced that the Y. M. C. A. sent to France in January more than 750,000 worth of text books part of which bear upon courses of agriculture and that these courses are open to all soldiers men of the United States as long as they remain overseas.

Two Proud Distinctions.

Col. Benton Halstead, who died a few days ago at his home in Washington, D. C., at the ripe age of 84 years, had two proud distinctions, if it is true that he was the inventor of the first working typewriter, as he is said to have been. His honors were won in peace and in war.

Colonel Halstead was a native of Ohio and at the outbreak of the Civil War he raised and went to the front with a company which became a part of the 69th Ohio Volunteers. He was a member of General Sherman's staff on his famous "march to the sea," and his military work was such that he rose to the rank of Colonel.

This was a good record, but one that was equalled by many other men. A stronger claim to a place in history consists in his invention of the typewriter, if it be true that he was its inventor, as stated in notices of his death, though not with entire positiveness. The typewriter of today is so largely the product of evolution that no one man can be given credit for it in its present perfected form, but the man who conceived the idea of a writing machine and went far enough in its development to insure a continuance of study and improvement is entitled to a high place on the roll of fame.

The typewriter is now and has for years been such a common utility that but little is thought about it, but in reality it is one of the great inventions of the age. Its usefulness is beyond computation. It is found in every business and professional office in the world and in thousands of private homes. It has practically relegated penmanship to the limbo of "lost arts," so utterly indispensable has it become wherever writing is to be done to any considerable extent.

There are still certain uses for the pen, and there always will be, but in a general sense it is as much out of date as the scythe, the sickle, the flail and the spinning wheel. The world has not time to wait for the pen today, and the nerves of the present generation have not the steadiness and patience to wield it properly. One blessed result is the almost complete disappearance of illegible manuscript, one of the torments of life in other days. Even the lawyer, proverbially one of the worst of offenders in the matter of poor writing, can no longer impose upon his clients and court officials with manuscripts that looked as if they might have been made by a fly crawling over the paper after giving his feet an ink bath. All that is a thing of the past. If a person has much writing to do today and cannot manipulate the machine he must employ some one who can. The scrawls that once answered for writing will no longer do. A remedy has been found and the world appreciates it.

There are three distinct advantages in the typewriter, either one of which alone would warrant the extensive use into which the machine has come. These are legibility, speed and ease of operation, it being far less tiresome to operate a typewriter than it is to wield a pen. This was long since discovered by the business and professional world, and the result is that the place of the typewriter in the lengthening list of modern and marvelous utilities is secure.

If Colonel Halstead was its inventor the fact should be heralded far and wide, for, with an honorable military record, he proved by that splendid mechanical achievement that "Peace hath her victories no less renowned than war."

Why Not a Mixed Commission?

Without wishing to doubt President Wilson's sincerity in what he said in New York on Tuesday evening that the League of Nations was not a party measure, it may not be out of place to remark that the American people would have been better pleased and more united had he invited at least one or two members of the opposite party to have sat with him in Paris. What a fine thing if he had invited Ex-President Taft or Elihu Root to have been a party to it. The question is large enough to tax the brains of all parties and peoples.

The proposition to increase the poll tax to $5 will hardly be relished by the men who pay no other tax, though in their demands for wages they constantly remind us of the increased cost of living, forgetting that the cost of government has also increased and that the cost must come out of the taxes paid by somebody.

The harbor at St. Johns, N. F., is said to be crowded with American ships built since the beginning of the war, and which are already badly out of order. This is a bad record, but it is a safe bet that there are no Portsmouth-built ships among them.

The number of young men and women who took the civil service examination recently held in this city indicates a disposition to save Uncle Sam from too hard a hunt for help when he needs it.

GUNMEN ROB STORE IN SOUTH BOSTON

Boston, March 5.—Two men armed with automatic pistols, walked into the liquor store of Herbert Gibson, 104 Dorchester avenue, South Boston, at 9:40 last night, held up the clerk in charge, rifled the cash drawer and escaped. The police have a good description of the bandits.

The clerk, Daniel Fulton, was alone when the two men entered. One gunman approached Fulton, who was behind the counter in the rear of the store, thrust his pistol in Fulton's face and ordered him to throw up his hands. The other bandit, pistol in hand, walked quickly over to the cash register and took all the money, more than $100.

The men, according to Fulton's description to the police, are about 22 years old, of medium build. His description corresponds to that of men whom the police have been looking for other holdups.

The police believe the gang which has been operating in this section may be the crowd from New York who were discovered last Saturday morning in a freight car in the West End street yards of the New Haven Railroad. There were five men in that gang and one was arrested.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Fals

(From the Hartford Courant)

The late Henry H. Rogers, one of the Standard Oil millionaires, blew in a large and, it was said, a compelling part of his great fortune in constructing the Virginian Railway, from the Chesapeake to the coal regions, with practically no grades. Now it is rumored that the Norfolk & Western, an old-fashioned road, that has grades and other annoyances that Rogers got rid of, is to buy up the Virginian.

New York to Welcome Mr. Taft (From the New York World, Dem.) It is eminently fitting that William H. Taft should have been invited with President Wilson to speak for the League of Nations at the Metropolitan Opera House Tuesday evening. His prompt and whole-hearted acceptance of the invitation was to have been expected.

Besides being glad to hear the ex-President on this great subject New York will welcome the opportunity to show what its people think of him and of the attitude held by him throughout the war.

Tempted at almost every step of the way through the nation's crisis to bend to partisan influences and yield to considerations of party or personal advantage in constructive or deconstructive criticism of those charged with the prosecution of the war, he has held a faithful course in their support and encouragement and, stimulation without the shadow of a tinge. And all no place along this stormy way, if that were possible has been measured up more fully to the stature of patriot and statesman of world vision than at the end in his devoted and unselfish championship over the country of the plan for a League of Nations.

This is a particular reason why New York is glad that Mr. Taft will be here to speak Tuesday evening.

True to Form

(From the Springfield Union, Rep.) In nominating Norman Hapgood as Minister to Denmark the President is ruling true to form. Like George Hegron, George Creel, William Bayard Rust, and most of the others, Mr. Hapgood has all but exhausted the possibilities of the English language in his search for terms and expressions sufficient to convey at least a small idea of his admiration for the man who now eloquently his efforts so handsomely.

For A Nation of Home Owners (From the National Republican) No more patriotic movement could be set in motion than one to make the American people a nation of home owners.

A National Association for the Promotion of Home Owners would be a real constructive movement fruitful in benefit to the American people.

There is much left now of schemes whereby the Government is to furnish every family a home. This, of course is political humbug, and will come to nothing. But with proper private encouragement the number of home purchases in the country could be doubled each year. A credit system should be provided whereby it will be easier for the "man in the street" to get out of the street and into a home of his own. Plans, public and private for providing such credit, should be developed. Employers, municipalities, banking organizations, and the Government itself should be enlisted in the work of putting a roof over every family in the republic which is willing to labor to such an end.

Home ownership is the greatest social stabilizer; the most effective antidote for revolutionary radicalism; the sanest contribution to political contentment and order.

Charity will not stop social unrest; turning the Government into a huge

VERMONT AGAIN FAVORS HIGH LICENSE, ELEVEN PLACES VOTE FOR LIQUOR

(By Associated Press)

Montpelier, Vt., March 5.—A marked trend toward license was shown today in the tabulation of results of the annual voting yesterday in the various cities and towns of the state on the liquor question. At least 21 towns and cities have voted for license as compared with 13 last year. The number may be increased when the returns are complete. Apathy on the part of prohibition advocates and a revival of license sentiment as a result of the recent state election in a tie, which that State favored, are regarded here as factors in the result. The list of places entering the license list includes Burlington, Montpelier, St. Albans city and town, St. Johnsbury, Northfield, Roshbury, Mount Vernon, Benson, Hubbardston, Rensselaer, Fairfax, Highgate, Swanton and Hardwood. Others which went wet last year and remain license this year are Rutland, Barre, Bennington, West Rutland, Castleton, Fairhaven, Colchester, St. George and Shelburne. In two towns, Fairfield and Thompson, the vote was a tie.

deemocracy institution in which the people are the inmates of a penitentiary or almshouse will not produce a millennium. What is most needed is a spirit of social and public service which will lead to the intelligent application of private capital to the solution of these problems through investment for moderate private and vast social profit, and the provision of the "know how" in home acquisition for men who do not have it themselves.

The way to prevent government incursions into fields in which government has to legitimate business is to intelligently organize and support movements for the amelioration, then private agencies of remediable wrongs in the existing order. There is a field for service for men of large means and broad vision and a real desire to help humanity rather than to exploit people either financially or politically.

MAINE PAPER CORRECTED ON BRIDGE MATTER

Our experience is that comparatively few Maine automobiles leave the state by the Kittery-Portland bridge, or any other route, says the Waterville Sentinel. Evidently the Sentinel does not realize that from 400 to 600 automobiles pass over this bridge every hour in the day during the summer season, as well as many other hundreds during the remainder of the year, and that the Maine tax is carried on a very large percentage of them.—Portland Press.

CHARLES DARWIN ON MUSIC

"My mind seems to have been a kind of machine for grinding general laws out of facts. I have lost the highly aesthetic taste and with it a great source of happiness. If I had to live my life again, I would have made it a rule to listen to some music at least once a week."

John on Friday afternoon gathering of music lovers. You are cordially invited.

PETER KERTZ

LARGE PARTY AT K. OF C. HOME

The lady friends of the Council entertained the men of the Service at the home last evening at one of the jolliest dancing parties yet held at the club house. The War Activities Committee invited the ladies to come and entertain the Service men and the home was crowded to the doors. There were two orchestras for dancing, the ball and first floor being used. The men used every room in the house, there not dining were playing pool, the Victrolas or piano. There was no interruption at 9:30 at which time was served. Everything was home cooked and provided by the friends of the Knights. At all the parties conducted by the Knights the men are served first and then the ladies are waited on. There are two sentences at this station now and their weekly band with this committee to make the affair a success.

The ladies who contributed toward last night's entertainment as well as the ladies committee who so ably assisted the men are deserving of great praise for their good work. The party broke up at 11 o'clock and everybody seemed well pleased with the evening's entertainment.

BULGARIANS JUST GETTING CONCERNED.

Salem, March 5.—The Bulgarians, government and people are much concerned because of the large number of reported massacres of Serbians and others by Bulgarians during the war, now that they have been brought face to face with the facts.

C. E. SOCIETY HAS BUSINESS MEETING AND SOCIAL

The monthly business meeting and several of the Christian Endeavor Society of the Court Street Christian Church was held Tuesday evening at the parsonage on Brighton street. Twenty-two were present and after the routine business a social time was enjoyed and games added to the interest of the occasion. The serving of refreshments was planned in a novel way to make merriment. This was called a box exchange and each member had previously been asked to bring a lunch which cost a dime—no more, no less. After the game the young men sat on one side of the room and the young women on the other and the boxes were then exchanged. The lunches were varied and there were some surprises that caused no little fun and the entire evening was pleasantly passed.

MAPLE SUGAR SAPIST STARTING TO RUN

Maple sugar making in southern New Hampshire is getting an early start.

In nearby towns many trees have been tapped and there is a good first run. It is predicted that new maple sugar and syrup will be in the city stores within a few days. Hundreds of maple trees reveal the fact that city folk are not going to be behind the rural communities. Usually it is the middle of March before the sugar orchards in the southern section of this state are put into operation for their spring output of one of the most profitable products of New Hampshire.

DAYLIGHT SAVING LAW IS SAVED BY CONGRESS

Washington, March 5.—Before Congress before final adjournment yesterday to take any action on pending bills providing for repeal of the daylight saving act made certain that the nation's clock would be advanced an hour during the period between the last Sunday in March and the last Sunday in October.

Opposition of farming interests to the daylight saving act on the grounds that it was of no benefit to the people of rural communities led to the introduction of several bills providing for its repeal, but all of them failed.

YARD MACHINISTS GIVE SCHOOLS GRAPHOPHONES

The Outside Machinists at the Navy Yard, with their funds, have done another good deed, this time for the schools. The Committee in charge found that the smaller schools of the city, the Cabot, Spaulding and Franklin schools did not have a graphophone, as the larger schools have, so they contributed their funds this month to the purchase of a machine for each of these schools. It is of the portable type so that it may be taken to the various rooms and it is greatly appreciated by the teachers and scholars alike.

GIRLS TO PLAY BASKET BALL RUBBER GAME

The rubber game of basket ball between the High school Girls and the Yeoman (P) team from the navy yard, will be played at the Armory Thursday evening at eight o'clock and it promises to be a very good game. Both teams have each won a game and by a strange coincidence by the same score, so that the deciding game promises to be very fast and interesting.

RED CROSS WILL HELP ON SCHOOL NURSE

The Portsmouth Chapter of the Red Cross have voted that if the Board of Health elect Miss Murphy the Red Cross Nurse, as the Public Health Nurse, to act as the school nurse also, that the Red Cross will contribute a part of her salary. The City Council at their recent meeting authorized the Board of Health to hire a public health nurse at a salary of $1200 a year, but this is not sufficient to engage a nurse of Miss Murphy's wide experience, so that the local Chapter will appropriate the difference, a matter of $300 per year. Miss Murphy has been with the Public Health Service and has been doing whatever school work should could find time for. She was formerly the school nurse at Concord and is one of the best in New England.

The Executive Committee of the Chapter at a meeting last evening voted to practically go on a peace footing, but to retain the present organization, which has done much good work during the past two years. The National Organization have requested the Chapter through chairman H. C. Taylor to retain their present organization and to carry on certain work. The work room at the Elks will be discontinued after this week.

Mrs. Locke the chairman of the work room reported that the last big allotment of garments for refugees and hospitals will be completed at the meeting on Thursday and that for the present there will be no more work. There is a large amount of yarn on hand and the Red Cross ask that this be used to knit children's stockings and sweaters for France and Belgium and this will be given out at various times to those who wish to continue knitting. The rooms at the Elks will be given up and the supplies and equipment moved to the room in the Old Court House where a room will be kept for such work as may come up. The committee who deeply appreciate the kindness of the Elks in giving the use of their home for the Red Cross work, feel that now that active work is over they should turn back to the Elks the rooms on the second floor that they have been using. The Elks have not only been very patriotic in this matter, but generous to a degree and the officers of the lodge and members have sought in every way to make the work room pleasant and assist the ladies in their great work.

There is a good supply of surgical dressings and bandages on hand, and by order of the National Organization these will be distributed among the institutions that can make the best use of them, suggesting schools, hospitals, homes, fire stations and etc. A special committee consisting of Messrs. J. P. Conner and R. D. McDonough of the Executive Board, have been appointed to arrange for the distribution of the goods.

The Chapter will continue to carry on the Home Service Department which is in charge of Mrs. C. A. Hall, and there is work for this department for many months. This department acts as the advisory board for the recruiting soldiers and sailors, in all matters pertaining to their allotments, back pay and insurance and here they get the latest and most accurate information as the war department works directly through this committee. There is a great deal of confusion among the discharged men as to their insurance allotment and in many cases back pay so that this department is continually kept busy on this work.

The Chapter has been requested to try and interest more people in the Red Cross magazine, a publication which is of interest to everybody. The magazine has grown wonderful with the war and it is one of the most interesting publications. A person who holds membership in the Red Cross by paying an additional dollar may have the magazine for a year.

While the Chapter will not be as active as during the war, the organization will be kept active and available for any emergency that may arise, and at the same time carry out whatever work the National Council orders.

RUSSELL TO MEET OWEN AGAIN

Johnny Russell of New York and Paddy Owens of Boston, two clever little bantam weights with tight ten pounds at the Knickerbocker Club on Thursday evening. Both of these lads fought once before in this city and it went to a draw, but Russell thinks that he can get the decision this time over the Boston bantam weight, while Owens who has championship aspirations will try and add Russell to his list of defeated.

The preliminaries will be an eight round bout between Young Gannan of Somersworth and Johnny Walsh of Lowell, and an eight round bout between Dennis Ryan of Cambridge and Kim Dwyer of Lawrence.

WHY DO SOME WIVES LEAVE THEIR HOMES?

Novel Theory is Advanced in "Don't Change Your Husband"

Why do wives apparently without reason to the outside world, suddenly leave their husbands and seek the divorce courts? There are many reasons, doubtless, of which the general public is unaware, but a novel one is introduced in "Don't Change Your Husband," the new Cecil B. DeMille Artcraft photoplay which will be displayed at the Colonial Theatre today and tomorrow. It is a novel picture in every respect and wonderfully presented. Gloria Swanson, one of the loveliest women of the screen, has the leading feminine role and Elliott Dexter shares with Lewis Cody the honors of the male characterizations.

Jeanie Macpherson is the author. It is an original story presenting the woman's viewpoint on a question rather pertinent to the present. "Old Wives for New" by David Graham Phillips, which Mr. DeMille recently produced. But this is not a sequel to that story. On the contrary, it is an entirely new and original photoplay with a wealth of novel quality and a beauty that is indescribable. It is one of the real high art pictures of the year. Its entertaining features are so pronounced that it stands quite alone, in this and in many other respects.

Vandeville and other features are also given on the same bill.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Weyl's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not stylish, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Weyl's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.

YEOMAN SUES CAPT. RUSH OF BOSTON YARD

Boston, March 4.—Alleging false and malicious prosecution, former Chief Yeoman William E. Masterson today filed two $15000 suits in the East Cambridge superior court against Capt. William R. Rush, commandant of the Charlestown Navy Yard, and his legal aide, Esigun Merrill Griswold of Cambridge.

Masterson recently was exonerated in an official order of Rear Admiral Wood of the 1st naval district of charges brought against him by Capt. Rush. The exoneration here the complete endorsement of Secretary Daniels.

Masterson was arrested in June, 1918, at the navy yard, turned over to the civil authorities, and, according to Secretary Daniels, was "unjustly treated," although the secretary was inclined to "view the matter with leniency in view of the fact the commandant of the navy yard did not know of the orders" under which Masterson was visiting the navy yard in civilian clothes. Another extenuating circumstance cited by Daniels was the vast amount of work done at the yard during the war.

After Masterson's arrest he was charged with larceny and brought before the United States Commissioner Hayes, but was discharged July 9, 1918.

All the world is dark and dreary to the joy chaser that wakes up from the horrors of a Jukoy Jag.

SEN. MOSES BLAMES PRESIDENT

Washington, March 4.—If the fathers and mothers of our soldier boys abroad want their sons home, they should make an unmistakable demand upon President Wilson that they be brought home, in the opinion of Senator George H. Moses (Republican) of New Hampshire. The President and he alone, Senator Moses says, is responsible for the failure of Congress to enact the legislation to bring them home, for the legislation tormented them home, for Mr. Wilson has so courted the exclusive limelight that he has been unwilling to permit the discussion of the new Congress to divide popular attention with his own efforts at the Peace Conference. The senator puts forward his opinions in a statement which is full of punch.

"The fate of legislation in the closing days of this session," he says, "has rested in the hands of the minority; and, had Republican senators been so disposed, they could have prevented, by organized or unorganized filibuster, the passage of any legislation embraced in the President's programme. As always, however, Republicans have been able to differentiate between good and bad organization, between necessary and unnecessary organization; and they have been guided now, as always, by patriotism rather than by partisanship, and have not attempted to block the passage of any measure vital to the essential interests of the country."

"Republicans have not yielded their conviction of the necessity to have an extra session of the Sixty-Sixth Congress at the earliest possible moment; and the failure of the Army, Navy, agricultural and sundry civil appropriation bills will necessitate the summoning of an extra session in time to enable these appropriations to be made prior to the 30th of June."

"The President's reluctance to have even a subordinate Congress session at any time is well known, and it is wholly natural, therefore, that there should be even more reluctance to convene a Congress which does not share his political views. This glut of the limelight is well known, and it is exceptionally dangerous at the present moment. The country is in a crisis, as he has found time to declare during his brief stay in America, not only in his Boston speech but in private conversation, yet he purposes to put 3000 miles of blue water between himself and his capital, where he would have no agency of the Government functioning, in spite of the nation's dire need."

There remains, however, well-nigh imperative reason for a speedy reassembling of Congress. Through the failure of the Army appropriation bill, the regular Army on the 30th of June will be automatically reduced to its pre-war footing of 175,000 men. Our undertakings with our Allies obligate us to maintain in France a force of substantially one-half million men. These were to have been taken from the regular Army strength, and would have been so taken if the Army bill had passed. Failing that, these overseas forces must continue to be made up of drafted men who are now abroad, and every day that the President delays in summoning Congress means that nearly one-half million homes in the United States must continue to see their sons held for military service on foreign soil. At best, this period of continued service would cover two or three months, that time being necessary to train the new regulars for purpose of replacement, and if the people of the United States wish the boys who are now in Europe to be brought home, they should make their demands known at the White House in unmistakable fashion immediately. It is unlikely that the President can resist such a demand, but if he does, so much the worse for him and his party."

OLD NEW ENGLAND PAINTER DEAD

Boston, March 4.—Walter M. Brackett, dean of New England artists, is dead at the City Hospital of injuries sustained in his studio, 151 Boylston street, a little over a month ago, when he fell and fractured his leg. He was 94.

Mr. Brackett was one of the best known painters of fish and game in the country. He was the oldest active painter in America, as well as the oldest active sportsman. Besides this, he had painted portraits for many famous men.

Of Quaker Descent.

Mr. Brackett was born in Unity, Me., of Quaker descent. He went to a Providence Quaker school several years. His parents moved to Cincinnati in 1837, but Walter's taste for drawing caused him to come to the studio of his sculptor brother in Boston.

His love of nature led him, when 39, to spend his summer outing among the vales and streams near Conway, N. H. Here a chance hawk trout was transferred so successfully to canvas by Mr. Brackett he was at once overwhelmed with orders for pictures of trout.

It was not until 1851 he began to paint salmon. A famous quarry of pictures, bringing him world-wide

BULGARIA NOW BANKRUPT

Sofia, Bulgaria, March 1.—Bulgaria is facing a financial crisis it is asserted. The war cost the country over $1,500,000,000, while its estimated wealth is only $2,000,000,000. The national debt before the war was $100,000,000.

Of the national debt as it now stands Bulgaria owes to Germany $600,000,000 which was advanced in installments of ten millions, but last winter Germany discontinued this practice, and demanded payment for installments in cash. Germany, incidentally was not in the business of helping its Allies for nothing, as the prices charged Bulgaria for gas masks clearly indicate. For each mask it charged $16 and a sheepskin, as compared with the cost of a similar article for the United States army in England at $1.50.

Under Germany's tutelage the financial policy maintained by Bulgaria sank the country deeper and deeper every year in debt. It was only belatedly that Bulgaria turned to international loan, but contented itself with peddling paper money to the total of almost $500,000,000, at the nominal rate of exchange. As a result Bulgaria's currency has depreciated more than one-half, while the accumulation of private wealth ran parallel to the rapidly mounting state debt. More than eighty banks were floated having a total capitalization of nearly one hundred millions.

Bulgaria's sole negotiable article of export is tobacco, and this she must use in the world's markets in exchange for food, clothing, cotton, oil, medicine etc. At present there are in the country the crops of the past two years, valued at about $300,000,000.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Back-ache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.
